

Web Front-End Developer

Company Presentation

Freemind is a software company, based in Brussels, delivering IT professional services and solutions to medium/large organisations. We help our customer to "Stay in Control" of their business and operations by supporting them in the management, design, development and deployment of large IT projects.

Our high-level IT professionals (Project Managers, Software Architects, Functional Analysts, Analysts/Developers) take care of major challenges in the IT space and make the objectives of our customers their own objectives.

We deliver our services in turn-key mode or time & material.

To assist our customers with the best solutions, Freemind is continuously innovating, promoting and pushing internal innovation programs around collective intelligence.

Function

We are currently looking for several web front-end developers which will work on a project for a customer of Freemind.

As a Front-End developer, you will integrate the development team to perform the following activities:

- Development, integration and maintenance of JavaScript front-end components in a Responsive / Adaptive Design context.
- Bring good development practices and Javascript / CSS tests to other team members
- Make code reviews
- Integrate/implement the models of the Design team

Competences

Required:

- You have at least 2 years of experience in the development, integration and maintenance of Java web applications and you master the following skills:
  - o HTML5 / Javascript / CSS3
  - o JQuery
  - o Bootstrap
  - o Less framework
  - o Responsive / Adaptive Design techniques
  - o Git
-
- The following optional skills or knowledge will be an advantage:
  - o You have already worked in a Java web application context
  - o WebComponent
  - o AngularJS
  - o Photoshop

- WebSocket
- WebRTC
- Maven

Personal skills :

- You speak FLUENTLY English and FRENCH
- Very good organization / rigorous / reliable
- You have excellent communication skills
- You have a professional & accountable attitude.
- You are flexible and have a result-driven approach
- You are a team player
- You have strong reporting capabilities
- You are eager to learn, autonomous and able to adapt to fast evolving environments.

Location:

Your main working place will be located in Brussels. Occasional travelling can be necessary, certainly in the beginning.

What we offer

- To join a team of multicultural young professionals.
- To become part of a fast growing company where people & team satisfaction is the key to success.
- We offer an attractive salary package tuned to your experience and other extra-legal advantages.

All CVs should be addressed to jobs@freemind-group.com

Any company information can be retrieved on <http://www.freemind-group.com>